

FIGHT The SMEARS

RADICAL ANTI-ABORTION IDEOLOGUES ARE RUNNING ADS THAT MAKE WILD ACCUSATIONS AGAINST BARACK OBAMA

Some people just don't care who they hurt to advance their political agenda.

Accusing a loving father of two beautiful little girls of wanting to kill babies isn't just wrong on the facts, it's the most disgusting and manipulative kind of hate politics around. But anti-abortion ideologues with a long history of partisan attacks are still launching an unconscionable new ad smearing Barack Obama.

The attackers torture and twist logic and history by willfully misinterpreting a vote by Barack Obama in the Illinois State Senate to come up with their wild accusation.

Here's the truth about Barack Obama and the bill:

At the time Barack voted against a bill containing language designed to protect infants who were "born alive," such protection was already on the books as Illinois state law.

The accusations against Barack are so reckless that not even the Republican state senator who sponsored the bill will support them. In fact, he freely admits that "None of those who voted against SB-1082 favored infanticide."

The bill was opposed by many legislators and groups like the Illinois Medical Society because of the unintended impact it would have had on other laws and legal precedents in Illinois.

Barack is on the record saying that he would have supported a similar bill that came up in Congress — but that didn't pose a threat to a woman's right to choose the way the Illinois bill did.
